

Still not organising Property and Highway Maintenance the cost effective way?

For a local authority, effectively directing property and highway maintenance can be quite a handful.

Coordinating all the diverse factors takes considerable time, effort and manpower. The ROCC DLO System can help utilise those resources more effectively.

As an independent computer company we already have strong links with several local authorities, using our proven DLO package. Experience that has helped develop the system as a comprehensive management tool. It covers every aspect of DLO related to repairs and maintenance. As the same time it's equally suitable for combined client and contractor operations.

We can tailor the system to precise needs and link it with existing systems you may have.

The result is complete control of DLO operations. Which leads to greater efficiency and a more profitable organisation.
